MEMPHIS APPEAL

THE GAME THAT IS BEING PLAYED AT WASHINGTON.

One who wishes to know how little reliability there is in partizan opinions, has only to read those of the Editors and correspondents of journals of different political creeds to be fully informed.

The Radical press takes its cue from the Tribune correspondent, who, diving in over head and ears, writes on the 5th of April:

The impeachment trial, its progress thus far, and its probable developments, are the prevailing topics of conversation in this city. It is generally conceded that the evidence as presented by the prosecution leaves not the shadow of doubt of the conviction of the President. Gentlemen of the legal profession regard it as the most complete case ever sent to a jury, and the managers feel confident that the defense cannot answer their arguments or impeach the testimony. The President's counsel have been so signally beaten that it is not improbable that they may retire from the case. A rumor to that effect was in circulation in well-informed circles to-day, and it is said that the President has been advised to resign.

That is the way to do up "an opinion as is an opinion." Stickle at nothing. If you have to lie, lie to some purpose. "The most complete case ever sent to a jury!" We have not the least idea that any rumor to the effect that the President's counsel might retire from the case, was "in circulation in well-informed circles," or that "it was said" that the President had been advised to resign.

If either report was in circulation, the Tribune correspondent is not such a fool that he could have believed either. Reputable counsel, once engaged in the trial of a criminal case, do not withdraw from it, even when all prospect of acquittal is lost. Such a case has never occurred, and never will, as long as there is courage or honour among the members of the bar. Again, the President cannot resign, after he has been impeached; and everybody in Washington, in well-informed circles, knows it.

The Herald, on the other hand, says:

It is very generally conceded that the evidence in the impeachment trial is too weak to hold water. First we have a mass of testimony endeavoring to prove a conspiracy between the President and Gen. Thomas—testimony to show that certain expressions were made use of by the latter on his own responsibility, for which the President should be held accountable; and this was gravely admitted by the Court as matter worthy of consideration and as upholding a case of the prosecution. Two high judicial authorities did not hesitate to say last evening to at the Chief Justice was entirely wrong in admitting the evidence which was put on the record in the first part of last week. It would be just as reasonable to hold the President responsible for the threats any of a thousand and one postmasters appointed by him might have made use of against those they were directed to supersede, and this prove conspiracy on the part of the Executive, and make use of their unconsidered language as evidence against him. The documentary testimony will be met by other coumentary testimony when the defence feels confident will put the case in a shape of the prosecution.

So far there is no case against the President, and a great many Senators feel that such is the fact; but the pressure on the entire republican element of the Senate will become intense as the trial draws to a close, and regardless of oath or evidence, it is feared the gratuitous crime will be perpetrated of rendering the head of the nation to accomplish a party purpose. It is week and the week after next will pour in upon those Senators who are considered disposed to waver, and men will come to Washington from all parts of the country to use their Senators to vote for conviction. Chasing and bullying will be tried by turns, and no stone left unturned to try and make a verdict of guilty. It is needless to say there are certain Republicans in the Senate to-day whom it will require extraordinary efforts to overcome and induce to vote against their convictions, and should such men yield a cry of rebellion will be heard and a feeling of remorse follow that will embitter their lives to the last moment they exist.

That is the truth, and such letters as these of the correspondent of the Tribune circulate deliberate falsehoods among the people to confinue their zeal for the conviction of the President, to induce them to believe that his guilt of an impeachable offense is beyond all possibility of doubt, and so to cause the convictions of the people, thus strengthened if not created, to react upon the Senate.

We read this maxim of the English law, in JAMES BAGG'S case, 11 COKE'S Reports, 98b: "They who have office of trust and confidence shall not forfeit them by endeavors and intentions to do acts, although they declare them by express words, unless the act itself shall ensue."

What, tested by that sound and sensible principle, becomes of all the rigmarole and balderdash of the half score of counts of the impeachment, which charge a conspiracy to do certain acts, argued to be illegal? The testimony established no such conspiracy, no such agreement, not even such an intention, by any legal evidence.

But the Senate is to be coaxed and bullied into a conviction;—aye, and bribed, too,—bribed, by the hate of too many unworthy Senators, and by the advantages to themselves and their party which the conviction promises these and others.

The student may find this in VINER'S abridgement, and profitably reflect on it:

"1 HENRY IV, Rot. Parl. num. 97. The Commons pray that the Lords spiritual and temporal, nor the Justices, be not received hereafter for their excuse to say that they dare not do nor say the law, nor their intent, for doubt of death, or that they are not free of themselves; because they are more bound of reason to keep their oath, than to doubt death, or any forfeiture."

Lord COKE says, in his IVth Institutes, chap. 1, p. 39, "The Court of Parliament is the highest and most honourable Court of Justice, and ought, as has been said, to give example to inferior Courts."

He has been quoted as saying:

And as every court of justice hath laws and customs for its direction, some by the common law, some by the evil and canon laws and customs, so the High Court of Parliament suis propriis legibus et consuetudinibus subsistit; all weighty matters in any Parliament (as well concerning the rees of the realm or lords or commons in Parliament assembled, ought to be determined, adjudged and discussed by the Court of Parliament, and not by the civil law, nor yet by the common laws of this realm, used in more inferior courts.

Lord COKE does say that also; and it is evident that he refers, in part, at least, to the legislative functions of Parliament, which, and each house of which also, has always been termed a Court. The two Houses together never were what we understand by a Court of Justice, nor, either, was the House of Commons.

And if Lord COKE meant that the House of Lords, when exercising judicial functions was not governed by the civil law or common law of the realm, he could only have meant that it was not compellable, by its technicalities and strictness, to do injustice; but might, to do justice, look to that law, older and higher than the civil or common law, "the same at Rome and at Athens," so much of which has been since his day incorporated into the English law.

He could not have meant that the House of Lords, as a Court, could disregard Magna Charta, or the Constitutional rights of Englishmen. To say that he meant that the great rules of the law as to guilt and innocence and evidence, and fairness of trial by impartial Judges, did not prevail or might be disregarded in the House of Lords, is to libel the dead.

Many of the authorities cited by the pettifogging Attorney who opened the case for the Managers, were cited from cases in which Peers indicted for crime were tried, not before the House of Lords, but before a certain number of Peers, generally twenty-three, presided over by the Lord High Steward of England or some one specially commissioned as such for the case, by whom the Peers were commissioned and summoned as a jury. Of course, being a jury, they were judges of the law and fact. If they wished advice, they called on the judges for it. The Lord High Steward therefore did not vote.

But when a trial upon impeachment took place, it was before the whole House of Lords, and the Lord High Steward did vote; and however frequently, in the times of the PLANTAGENETS and STUARTS, the proceeding was prostituted, perverted and abused, it was never not part of the law and Constitution of England, that the House of Lords, trying an impeachment, was a Court of Justice.

What the duty of the Lords, either as Judges or as jurors, was, may be judged of by the rules which COKE lays down for the Judges who might have to advise them.

Speaking of a trial before the Lord High Steward and Peers, he says, (3d Institutes, Chap. 2, p. 29): "and to the end that the tryal may be the more indifferent, seeing that the safety of the prisoner consisteth in the indifferency of the Court, the Judges ought not to deliver their opinions before-hand of any criminal case, that may come before them judicially. And we read that in the case of HUMPREY STRAFFORD, that arch traytor, for they thought it should come before them on the King's Bench judicially, and then they would do that which of right they ought: and the King accepted of it. And therefore the Judges ought not to deliver their opinions beforehand upon a case first, and proofs urged of one side, in absence of the party accused: especially in cases of high nature, and which deserve so fatal and extreme punishment. For how can they be indifferent, who have delivered their opinions beforehand without hearing of the party, when a small addition or substraction may alter the case? And how doth it stand with their oath, who are sworn, That they should well and lawfully serve our Lord the King and his people in the office of a Justice, and they should do equal law, and execution of right to all his subjects, etc."

LETTER OF OUR SPECIAL NEW ORLEANS CORRESPONDENT.

NEW ORLEANS, April 12, 1868.

Editors Memphis Appeal:

Permit your correspondent thus publicly to offer his grateful acknowledgments to A. S. Livermore, Esq., and his gentlemanly assistants in every department, for the courtesies extended during our journey over the Mississippi and Tennessee Railroad, which was the more appreciated by contrast with our experience of the officials on the Mississippi Central and New Orleans, Jackson and Great Northern lines, who seem studiously to ignore alike the convenience and comfort of travelers, both in the connections and tortoise like deliberation of the schedule, which is certainly several hours slower than there is the slightest necessity for stopping, and exceedingly wearisome and fatiguing to the victims of their tardy progress.

Competition in lines of railroads, as in hotel keeping or other business in which the general public is interested, is an absolute essential to progress, and from the absence of this great incentive to improvement arises the striking difference in the South as compared with the Northwest and Eastern States.

On Saturday, the first races of the spring meeting, over the Metairie course, attracted the largest attendance assembled since the close of the war; and the arrangements in every respect were very creditable, alike to the liberality and good taste of the New Orleans Jockey Club, largely composed of the best citizens in the State, and evidently fortunate in the possession of great harmony of sentiment amongst the members, as well as an enthusiastic desire to elevate and strengthen the highest interests of the turf. Indeed, turf matters as conducted by the gentlemen of this Club, attain the elevated standard of those of England, and excel anything we have noted in this country except, perhaps, the meetings at Charleston, S. C., as we remember them in other and happier days lang syne. The presence of a great many ladies on Saturday, and more on Monday, corroborative of our impressions on this subject, and was always a distinguishing characteristic of the meetings of the South Carolina Jockey Club.

The contest which excited most interest was the hurdle race of two miles for $1000 over eight hurdles, and although considerable sport and excitement in similar struggles for precedency as witnessed in Europe, was undoubtedly one of the most interesting which has ever occurred in the South, or perhaps in America.

The hurdles to be leaped consisted of barriers of wood, about three feet high surmounted with withes of Palmetto strongly interwoven, and as there was enough of hard running to do without the addition of eight leaps, numerous were the wagers offered that a broken neck, or at least a severe purl, would be one of the characteristics of the struggle, but these expectations were not realized beyond the fall of the colored rider of Red Bird, who was forcibly deposited on the ground, but not seriously injured, while leaping the hurdle nearest to the judges' stand, after the race was ended, and he was returning to the scales.

The entries for this were as follows: D. P. Penn's b. h. Edinboro, R. W. Simmons's b. h. Jonesboro, S. L. James's b. h. Red Bird, William Brady's b. h. Beauregard.

Jonesboro was the winner in 3 minutes 51½ seconds the two miles, which is said to be the best racing time ever made in the United States; the next best being 3:54½.

The second race was for the two-year old stake: $25 entrance, p. p., mile dash; $300 was added by the Club; for this the following were the entries: T. B. Patterson's Richelieu, William Cottrill's Puss Brodnax, S. Leonard's Ontario.

Ontario was the favorite with the sporting fraternity against the field; but Richelieu won the race in 1:47¼, occasioning the loss of no little currency by the knowing ones—so-called—as well as less posted outsiders.

The performances of the day concluded with a race for the post stakes, two mile heats, entrance $25, the club adding $500. For this the entries were J. McCloskey's Fanny Cheatham, and Col. Neiligan's Bismarck. The mare won the victory in two straight heats—time, 3:42½, 3:48½.

The racing altogether was of the most spirited character; and the display of fast teams and handsome equipages on the shell road worthy of a Derby day or a muster for Epsom.

The Easter services in the various churches on Sunday were of the most imposing character, and the music in the Cathedral and Jesuit church in Baronne street particularly fine. Both these grand edifices were not only crowded to overflowing, but hundreds of persons remained on the sidewalks until the close. The display of spring toilettes was charmingly varied and attractive to the most indifferent of the male bipeds, and some of the dark-eyed wearers lovely as a poet's dream.

The absorbing topic in political circles is the approaching election on the adoption or rejection of the black-and-tan State Constitution, which, thanks to the manipulation of the military authorities and the "loyalty" of negro leagues, seems likely to be forced on the white people of this province, much after the manner adopted by the Brownlowites in providing Shelby county with the Lewises and Hunters, who have so generally nauseated all the respectable classes to whom their names are known.

Yours, very faithfully, GUMBO.

Author of "The Fountain of Health," "Parallels between Allopathy and Homeopathy," "Injurious Effects of Blood-letting, Etc., Etc., Etc.
For the Treatment of all Diseases, especially those which have heretofore RESISTED ALL MEDICATION.
DR. WIESECKE is an old and experienced Physician, Oculist and Accoucheur; being himself a successful Surgeon in Allopathic practice, he was soon convinced that the only system of medicine in which confidence could be placed was the then recently promulgated doctrines of the celebrated Hahnemann. He therefore became his personal disciple, and in 1845 accompanied him to Paris, where he was for 37 years physician to the Spanish Embassy. Since the death of his immortal master, June 2, 1843, he conceived it his duty to be his successor so far as one was required, in order to theoretically place the system (practically verified by Hahnemann) upon a firm and rational basis that it's truth would be manifest to all, which has been accomplished by the publication of "The Fountain of Health."
This is not a Hospital in the ordinary acceptation of the term; it is an Institution in which are collected and dispensed all those remedies and appliances which are necessary for the compliances of different cases.
There are in this model establishment, different kinds of baths entirely new and hitherto unknown in America, fitted up expressly for curative purposes. First—specific medicine Baths, the extraordinary power of which rests upon the law of Nature, that like assimilates to solid as well as fluid agents; if these agents contain specific powers which the morbific agents can attract, they will be collected and brought to the locality of their sphere of action (disease) wherein they exercise an opposite tendency and effect, thereby not only acting from each other to DEVELOP force until one or both are powerless. By this means all morbific agents, whether acute or chronic, thereof diminished, and eventually extinguish it. Second—Curative Vapor Baths, in which the liquid at blood heat is saturated with healing matter and ejected from hundreds of minute points on the body. By this process the matter exercises a friction upon every pore, at the same time, with out excluding by contact the inhalable air, which saturated with the aroma of the curative agents is breathed and simultaneously pressed into eighteen hundred cubic inches of the lungs. Third—Inhalation Baths. Every part of the body derives its elements from the blood and returns to it those which it has used. The principal organs of secretion are the perspiration gland of the outer skin whose number may be estimated at a thousand to the square inch. The quantity of blood which is absolute y unavailable for any other purpose, is exerted from the body through these glands by gradual but copious insensible and impalpable evaporation. This, besides serving as a means of excretion regulates the temperature of the body. This process, however, 306 North Fifth street, in German and English.
Among the many intractable diseases to be cured at this Institution, are Asthma, Inveterate Ague, Bronchitis Cancer, Dropsy, Epilepsy, Insanity in two, Hip Joint Disease, Insanity, Ophthalmic Diseases, viz: Granulations of the Lids, Opacities and Ulcerations of the Cornea, Amaurosis, Strabismus, etc.; Urinary and Genital disorders, Diabetes, Dropsy of the Ovaries and Uterus, Barrenness, Leucorrhea, Prolapsus and Retroversion of the Uterus, Irregularities of and Difficult Menstruation, Swellings and Ulcerations of the Bones, etc.

NOTICE.—Stolen from my farm 9 miles north of Collierville on the 2 miles east of Fletcherville, on the night of April 1st, one BAY MARE MULE, about 5 years old, of good size and in good condition, and slightly scarred from traces. A negro boy, who calls himself Louis Jones, left my farm at same time, and is supposed to have stolen the Mule. The said negro came from Memphis, is of a dark brown color, over five feet high, and has a very good countenance. A liberal reward will be paid for either mule or thief.

[Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

THE KU-KLUX KLAN.

The New York Tribune, after "a careful study of facts and sifting of testimony," concludes that there is "solid reality under the stuff and nonsense with which the Southwestern papers mask this rapidly spreading organization."

It admits that it is not unnatural at any time, that secret societies should exist; and that men will unite for protection or for congenial association.

It proceeds to say:

Not only the ordinary hatred of loyalty, but the remote hope of political advantage, has led to the establishment of the order here referred to, known generally as the Ku-Klux Klan. Their leading idea is, of course, the defeat of reconstruction, and the postponement of anything like admission to the Union until they may realize the very remote contingency of a grand Democratic triumph in the North. Such a triumph, they seem to believe, would restore the now silent South to its old potency in the national councils; then they could "reduce the nigger to his normal sphere;" the bugbear of negro voting would vanish under a summary disfranchisement of the entire race, and although absolute slavery might not be restored, one of aristocracy would be able to hedge the negroes and poor whites within such subordinations as practically to restore the patriarchal institution in all things except auction sales of human beings.

To this end work the K. K. K. They get up a mysterious fellowship; adopt a frightful disguise; scatter abroad horribly worded proclamations; make sudden forays at midnight; and do all fantastic tricks that may at their purpose. That purpose is to frighten and annoy loyal colored men (and white men, too, if they can), so that they will leave the Southern States. Thus, some time ago, in Mississippi, they circulated a ridiculous story about a new horrible monster in the swamps, a dreadful demon that had an insatiable appetite for negro flesh; a similar monster was seen in Arkansas, and scarcely a week passes without announcing a startling account of another of the brood in some neighboring quarter. This does very well for the credulous colored people, but white men must have stronger doses, and so the K. K. K. favor peaceful and hard-working Union men with cloudily-worded warnings, and emphasize these warnings by midnight visitations, threats of violence, and sometimes actual assault.

It is useless to expect the Tribune to be honest or veracious in its accounts of anything in the South. It has a monomania for lying. Everything is in the plural, with it. A single outrage, reported from Tennessee, one warning, probably got up by some devilish boys to scare some one not braver than BOB ACRES or Ancient Pistol, gets multiplied or breeds a whole litter, while the account of it is transmitted by wire or by letter of some Dugald Dalgetty of falsification, to the Tribune columns. It was intended that every one who might read the last sentence we have quoted, should understand that the warnings, visitations and threats spoken of have been matters of constant and multitudinous occurrences; because even actual assaults have been sometimes committed. Intended to be so understood, it is,—slightly an exaggeration, after the Tribune's happiest manner.

But now the Philosopher (sans philosophie) of the Tribune, gets "rile." He rolls up his sleeves, sets "that hat" still further back on his head, and demands:

What shall be done? Is it to be tolerated that in a land of civil government an irresponsible gang of ruffians shall spread terror far and wide over a third of the national domain—or even over a square mile of that domain? That there is a powerful organization, composed of the very worst men in the South, and aiming at the ends we have described, no one can doubt. Gen. Thomas and Gov. Brownlow have testified to its existence, and warned us of danger. The loyal press of the south give facts that prove the great strength and base purposes of the Klan, while the faint attempts of the rebel press to laugh at the affair are equally substantial proof of its reality and importance. Gov. Brownlow is widely censured for his denunciation of these rascals, and possibly his language is open to criticism in the matter of epithets, but when, in any section of the country it is possible for armed men to ride abroad disguised, their faces closely concealed, and order this man to move, that other to stay; drag forth and flog one for loyalty; burn the house of another; drive unoffending schoolmistresses from their homes, and spread terror over a whole State, it is high time to pull off the gloves.

Then he hits what he elegantly terms "the Rebel Press," thus:

It is significant of trouble that the more virulent of the rebel press favor the growth of this society. Some of them pretend to laugh at the fears of the loyal citizens, but there is a "covey over the left" in that feather, and failure to acknowledge and approval of the Klan. Let them all—members and supporters—recall the fate of the Knights of the Iron Hand—or Heel, if you will. In a city, and, what ever flush of success may now encourage their efforts, they may be sure that swift and speedy destruction will fall upon them should their operations rule! The promise that the few attempts already on record appear to justify.

We do not suppose that the Ku-Klux Klan, with its masks and devices to scare superstitious negroes, and other extravaganzas, was any thing more than a local organization, got up for fun and frolic; and we were of course inclined to laugh at it, until it seemed about to be abused for discreditable and lawless purposes. Associations of that sort give a power to individuals, which there is always too much temptation to use improperly; and they will, moreover, be made use of by those who do not belong to them, who, committing excesses, cause them to be imputed to this or the other suspected order.

There is not the least reason to suppose that the murder of ASHBURN, in Georgia, was the act of the Ku-Kluxes. It was for the benefit of Radicalism that this should be believed, and therefore it was asserted. That is the rule, now. A thing is not stated because it is true, but because it ought to be so, for the benefit of the liar. Almost as good a plan as averring a thing as a fact, is to use some such phrase as the Pecksniffian formulas of the Tribune,—e.g., "from certain demonstrations it is presumed."

The veritable original Ku-Kluxes were too demonstrative and courted notoriety too much, to have been much in earnest. It is funny to hear the Tribune grimly say:

On the whole, we judge that this Klan is a reality, and means dangerous mischief. It has spread, in an incredibly short time, from Eastern Tennessee to every nook and corner of the Southern States. It is petted in an indirect way by the most of the rebel press, and hints are given here and there of the great forbearance from Congressional rule that the South is to have at some future day through its operations. If it is really another secession snake, the sooner its fangs are drawn by the judicious exhibition of Loyal power, the better it will be for all of us, more particularly, however, for the Southern people.

We do not know what the Ku-Klux organization may become, if it ever becomes anything. It is quite certain that it will never come to much on its original plan. It must become quite another thing to be efficient.

As the APPEAL is of that press which the Tribune honours by terming it Rebel, we do not at all hesitate to say this: The oppressions practised upon the people of the South, especially by the officers of the Freedman's Bureau, are daily becoming less and less tolerable, and indignities are practised upon the best citizens, at the instance and on the lying statements of negro scoundrels, which those who have to endure them never forget. Any thing, any charge against an honest man, can be proven by negro testimony. The miserable devils perjure themselves just as readily as they lie. Every lawyer knows it; and it is humiliating for a member of the bar to be constrained by his obligations to his client to assist in placing before a court sheet after sheet reeking with perjury. We, for one, shall not do it; and when we cannot sustain a case by the testimony of white witnesses, the client must get other counsel.

With negroes for witnesses and jurors, the administration of justice becomes a blasphemous mockery. A Loyal League of negroes can cause any white man to be arrested, and can prove any charges it chooses to have made against him.

The disfranchised people of the South, robbed of all the guarantees of the Constitution,—aye, hell-kite! all, "at one fell swoop,"—can find no protection for property, liberty or life, except in secret association. Not in such association to commit follies and outrages; but for mutual, peaceful, lawful, self-defence. If it were in our power, if it could be effected, we would unite every white man in the South, who is opposed to negro suffrage, into one great Order of Southern Brotherhood, with an organization complete, active, vigorous, in which a few should execute the concentrated will of all, and whose very existence should be concealed from all but its members. That has been the resort of the oppressed in all ages. To resort to it is a right given by GOD; and the BROWNLOWS and MEADES would find it idle to attempt, by any threats or denunciations, to prevent it, if the people were not so entirely sunken in the apathy of hopeless despair as not to have energy enough to unite for anything.

Night Dispatches.

[NOTE.—Owing to a general storm North and East last night, it was impossible to get our regular report.—REP.]

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

LOUISVILLE, April 15.—The weather is cloudy and warm. The river is rising fast, with 11 feet 9 inches in the canal by the mark.

ALBANY, N. Y.

ALBANY, N. Y., April 15.—At the charter election yesterday, the Democrats elected their Mayor and a majority of the city ticket by about 3000.

CHARLESTON.

CHARLESTON, April 14.—At a large auction of Southern securities to-day, there was a noticeable improvement in prices. The average advance on every description of stocks was fully ten per cent. A large number of Northern bidders were present.

Voting on the new Constitution began quietly to-day.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Sixteen miles beyond West of Fort Jervis, on the Erie Railroad, to-day, a broken rail threw a passenger train down a twenty foot embankment. Thirteen passengers were instantly killed and fifty-two wounded; seven were burned beyond recognition. Partial lists of the killed and wounded show no Southerners.

NEW ORLEANS.

[DELAYED]

NEW ORLEANS, April 14.—General Buchanan to-day issued a proclamation cautioning all parties against interfering with voters at the coming election. The proclamation recites that it has been reported to headquarters that evil disposed persons in various parts of the State of Louisiana are preparing to cause disturbances and riots at the polls. The State laws must and shall be enforced.

Special order No. 79 of to-day, prohibits political processions at night until after the election, and forbids the carrying of fire-arms.

Gen. Buchanan has appointed June 15th for the assembling of the Texas Convention at Austin.

The late registration in Louisiana shows a large preponderance of whites.

WASHINGTON.

WASHINGTON, April 15.—The following letter was addressed by Secretary Stanton to Senator Cameron yesterday:

WAR DEPARTMENT,
WASHINGTON, April 14, 1868.

To Hon. Simon Cameron:

Dear Sir: Perceiving in this morning's Chronicle that a communication has been signed by the Governor of your State, the Republican members of the Legislature, and other persons, asking your recommendation for my transfer, upon a certain contingency, to the head of the Treasury Department, I hasten to request earnestly that no such recommendation be made. Enough of my life has been devoted to public duties, and no consideration can induce me to assume those of the Treasury Department, or continue in the War Department longer than may be required for the appointment and confirmation of my successor.

Yours truly, E. M. STANTON.

President Johnson unveiled the Lincoln monument to-day. Grant was on the sidewalk, having declined to appear on the stand.

The Impeachment trial was continued to-day. The Chief Justice ruled out the President's message of February 24th. The managers objected to it on general grounds, but the Chief Justice rejected it on the ground that the Senate resolutions did not require it—therefore it was not part of the regular proceedings. His message, nominating Ewing, was, however, admitted, and also an immense mass of documentary evidence, under continued objection from Butler. After the conclusion of which the Court adjourned.

The Senate then resumed legislative business and ordered certain reports of the sessions and proceeded to the consideration of the impeachment and deficiency appropriations.

Pending this discussion a deficiency of $30,000 was reported in Forney's account, and Corcoran said that Forney's clerk had been wrongly charged.

In the House, Stevens made a statement to the effect that the Senate had determined not to hear the impeachers fully, and gave notice that he would move for night sessions in the House to allow the managers and others to make their speeches.

The President's counsel had it pretty much their own way this afternoon. The impeachers show palpable signs of discouragement.

FOREIGN.

LONDON, April 14.—Viscount Cranburne, Marquis of Saulsbury, and Secretary for India under Lord Derby, is dead. His eldest son is Viscount Cranburne member of the House of Commons for Stonaford, who succeeds to the title and estate of the Marquis.

After a parting interview with the Queen this morning, the Prince and Princess of Wales, accompanied by their respective suits, left London on their visit to Ireland. They will land in Dublin at noon to-morrow.

LONDON, April 15.—Several days' later dates from Paraguay report the story of the capture of Ascension unfounded. The Brazilian fleet, after the battle, returned to Curquaity, where it was at last advices. The Paraguayans claim a victory in the late battle.

DUBLIN, April 14.—The great preparations which have been made to give all possible eclat to the visit of the Prince of Wales, are about completed. The castle has been changed into a royal palace for his accommodation.

St. Patrick's Cathedral has been most superbly decorated for the coming ceremonies.

DUBLIN, April 15.—The Prince and Princess of Wales have arrived here. They were received with the greatest enthusiasm.

PARIS, April 14.—The journal Des Debats denies that there is any danger of a war with Germany, and, in proof of it, says France has already refused to enter into a close allegiance with England and Austria, unless Prussia is included.

COPENHAGEN, April 14.—It is understood that the Emperor of Russia has refused to interpose his good offices as mediator, between Denmark and Prussia, for the settlement of the controversy concerning the Schleswig Provinces.

PARIS, April 15.—Minister Barochie, in a public speech to-day, said the reorganization of the army was a pledge of peace, which no foreign power now threatened to disturb; and that the great internal improvements which are now being carried on by the Government, are inconsistent with the idea of an approaching war.

ST. PETERSBURG, April 15.—The Czar agrees to the postponement of the payment for Alaska to May the 1st. The journals here believe that the American Congress will certainly vote the appropriation, and also that a general European discernment is probable.

TENNESSEE.

—On Monday, at Nashville, two corporals belonging to the Forty-fifth Infantry were arrested for an assault on a colored laundress who had been superintending their linen at the barracks. Gallant boys in blue! They deserve shoulder-straps for their devotion to the fair!

—Scott Thomas, a Nashville negro, who had become conversant with city life, under Radical teaching, attempted to change a $10 note handed him by Daniel Green, a country darkey, by running off, but Green was not so verdant as to fail to recognize him, and the Magistrate recognized him, too.

—The "Varieties" of Nashville, like the "Varieties" of Memphis, is the only place of amusement in the city.

—During the storm on Sunday morning, the residence of Mrs. Allen, in Edgefield, was struck by lightning, which shattered the side of the house and served the leg of—a piano the same way, but did no further damage to the instrument. On Sunday afternoon two trees in Edgefield were struck by lightning.

—Wm. Hopkins, a negro, was sentenced at Nashville to four years to the penitentiary for larceny.

—A Nashville policeman, D. F. Fredericks, was robbed of $205, taken from under his pillow, on Friday night while he slept.

—The Press and Times of the 13th says: "It is reported by those who ought to KNOW, that the frost has not injured fruit in this section of the State as much as was at first feared." We hope this is true; but the Press and Times says so many things that are not even palatable, this must be taken with a grain of salt.

A Bloody Affray.

We learned that an affray occurred at Spottsville, Ky., on last Wednesday which will probably result in the death of the parties engaged. It seems that James Stewart, a citizen of that place, went to Henderson, when he very unfortunately drank too much bad whisky, causing him when he returned, to order, very angrily, an old man named Mackelhainey, who had been in his employ, to leave town, which the old man said he would do if he (Stewart) would pay him what he owed him. This so enraged Stewart that, exclaiming he would pay him, he seized the old man by the whiskers and dragged him to the ground; and getting a four pound weight which lay near him, he struck the fallen man several times on the head and face, breaking his jaw and fracturing his skull. At this juncture, Mackelhainey succeeded in getting his knife out of his pocket, and as Stewart was bending over him to strike him again, he (Mackelhainey) cut him several times in the abdomen, chest and ribs, inflicting several large and it is supposed mortal wounds. Dr. Watkins attended both the men, and has said that neither would survive the injuries.—Evansville Courier.

—A dispatch from Montreal says, Mrs. McGee refuses to accept the address of condolence from the St. Patrick's Society, as she thinks it primarily responsible for her husband's murder.

—At St. Eustache, Ottawa, a man named Leban and his wife were in the habit of murdering travelers who stopped at their house. Recently they attacked a traveler—the man with an axe and the wife with a razor. The traveler knocked down his assailant, and his wife, mistaking her husband for him, cut his throat. She has been arrested, and confessed all of her past horrible transactions. Three skeletons were found in the house.

—The political excitement is intense in North Carolina. Both candidates for Governor, W. A. Graham, ex-Governor Vance, and other leading men are canvassing the State. It is calculated that not less than two hundred speeches per day are being made in the different counties.

—The New York Evening Post (Radical) says the Republicans are bitterly disappointed at the result of the Connecticut election.

—Stanton, and the Radical junto at Washington, have applied their "spy" system to Judge Chase, in consequence of a suspicion that he is disposed to do justice in the impeachment trial.

MARRIED.

CLAY—TUGGLE—At the residence of Mrs. M. Owen, on Tuesday, April 14, 1868, by Rev. Dr. Mann, Major C. CLAY to Miss ANNIE L. TUGGLE, all of this city.

And now, Major, you have "gone and done it at last." It will be seen from the above that he has entered the matrimonial tournament and borne off the prize, to the great disappointment of legions of contestants. We wish him much joy in the new career upon which he has entered, and may no shadows e'er cross their pathway or dim the sunlight of connubial love. May they ever enjoy the smiles of our greatest General—General Peace, General Plenty and General Happiness.

OUR WEEKLY.—Our Mammoth WEEKLY is published to-day. It contains the usual quantity of reading matter and news of all kinds. The circulation of our WEEKLY, as well as DAILY, is rapidly increasing, and we pride ourselves in pointing to our WEEKLY as one of the largest, best and cheapest journals published in the South. Copies ready for mailing may be had at our counting-room to-day.

BADLY INJURED.—Sergeant C. B. Smith met with rather a serious accident yesterday morning. In attempting to get on a street car, on Main street near Poplar, he missed his footing and fell. One of the wheels passed over his right foot, thigh and hand, bruising them badly. He was taken into the drug store on the corner of Main and Washington streets, where his wounds were partially dressed. He was afterwards taken to his home, attended by his physician. It is feared that the injury to his foot may render amputation necessary.

GREAT SALE OF HIGHLY VALUABLE LANDS NEAR THE CITY ON SATURDAY NEXT.—The extensive sale of real estate, by Messrs. Royster, Trezevant & Co., Auctioneers, appearing in our columns to-day, offers a splendid opening for a safe and profitable investment—safe because good land held by a perfect title is always the surest depositary of cash—profitable, because after returning to the purchaser two or three hundred dollars per acre by the sale of wood to the Memphis wood wagons, he has in his land, when cleared, a still richer treasure in its capacity of agricultural production. If parties ever expect to buy lands near Memphis, this is the chance. See the auctioneers' advertisement, and be on hand.

MORE SHOOTING BY NEGROES.—About eleven o'clock on Saturday night, four negroes entered the lot of Dr. Sam Miller, on Hernando street, evidently with the intention of robbing the chicken coop. An old female negro servant, hearing an unusual noise, went into the yard, when she was shot at but not hurt. She retreated and took shelter behind a woodpile. Her son came running out to see what the disturbance was, when he was fired at, one of the shots lodging in the left breast near the region of the heart. His wound will probably prove fatal. The Doctor next appeared upon the scene and was fired at but not injured. The Doctor was armed with a double-barrel shotgun which failed to do its duty, both barrels missing fire, consequently the thieves got off. The Doctor's servant boy is still alive, although there is very little hope of his recovery.

We intended to accompany this notice of a very singular communication which appeared in our own, as well as the columns of the other morning papers of yesterday, with proper comments on the unauthorized and gratuitous indorsement, by the Bulletin, of the statement to which it alludes, but were compelled to devote our present columns to something else. The article which we were desirous should appear in the proper connection, shall meet the reader to-morrow.

To the Public.

In reply to Mr. Campbell's card, which appeared in the Ledger of yesterday, Mr. A. C. Ferguson, referred to in said card, respectfully requests the public to draw its own conclusions as to the weight or veracity of sixteen young gentlemen who have been educated by careful and honorable parents, in the ways of truth, and an individual (with whom they can have no controversy) whose statement is a tissue of falsehoods from beginning to end, and who is said to have been made familiar with the discipline of the Missouri penitentiary. His publication, to create sympathy, starts out with an unnecessary falsehood, he claiming to have read our explanation on a sick bed, when he was seen upon the street that day, and in a different part of the city from that in which he resides. Our explanation is strictly true in every particular, and the denials and assertions of Campbell are mere bravado from one who has no character of value to lose, and cannot by any new act sink much deeper in infamy.
A. C. FERGUSON, Secretary.

THINGS ABOUT TOWN.

—George Vincent, charged with robbing J. Bevlin, is not a negro but a white man.

—The auction store of Messrs. Strauss & Bloom, No. 87 Beal street, was entered on Tuesday night and robbed of goods to the amount of two hundred dollars. An entrance was gained by forcing the back door, supposed to have been done by mackerels.

—The saloon of Joseph Boggiano, on the levee, near the foot of Jefferson street, was broken into yesterday morning, and about fifty dollars in currency stolen.

—Three young mackerels made an attack on a man from the country, on Main street, yesterday morning, evidently with the intention of robbing him. They did not succeed, however, but one of the trio cut the man in the arm. They ran down Jefferson, toward the bluff; two of them were caught, but the boy with the knife made good his escape.

—Emma Donegan, who boasts of an Irish name, but is as black as Erebus, was put in jail yesterday, by order of Justice Kiernan, charged with stealing a quantity of clothing from a colored sister of Ham.

—One of the numerous family of Joneses, surnamed Dick, was tried before Justice Kiernan, for stealing clothing from his room-mate, Thos. Stover, yesterday morning. The accused was sent up in default of $2000 bonds.

—A charge of obtaining fifty dollars under false pretenses, was preferred before Justice Kiernan yesterday, by Council McKinnie, against one Henry Adams. He will be examined to-day. A mule was at the bottom of it.

—Two light-fingered colored damsels, named Mary and Eda Clinch, were arrested yesterday on a warrant issued by Justice Kiernan, charged with stealing bedding and clothing from one Mollie Saffrons. They will be examined to-day.

—Two negroes, called Ben Harrison and Jack Ford, were, for the third time, before Justice Millard yesterday, charged with stealing a trunk containing clothing and some provisions from the steamer Des Arc some time since. The time required to prosecute such fellows interferes materially with the business of steamboat men and many who are actually guilty are discharged. Such was the case in this instance. The accused are afloat.

—Dan Bankhead and Wesley Duke, charged with highway robbery in Chelsea, were fully committed for trial at the next term of the Criminal Court by Mr. Justice Millard.

—The residence of the Rev. Dr. Brooke, No. 176 Hernando street, was entered yesterday morning, when two silver goblets and two buff colored curtains were stolen. Those who would rob a rector would desecrate the graves of their ancestors.

—Two cows were stolen on Sunday night from the stables of Pemberton & Brigardie. Diligent search has been made, but the bovines have not yet been brought home. It is a noticeable fact that of the many cows lost during the past few months, so very few have been recovered. They generally find their way to the butcher stalls.

—The Hotel D'Europe express wagon, lost from the stables of Diemukes & Kellog, was recovered yesterday by Detective Connell. The party in possession of the vehicle was arrested.

—The Circulating Library and Newsroom of W. H. Cave, Agent, has been removed to No. 244 Third street, two doors south of Jefferson.

—The attention of the Superintendent of Police has been called to the fact that fast driving on our most frequented thoroughfares is indulged in. Let the evil be stopped.

—Fifteen cases came before the Commissioner in the First District yesterday morning, and about one hundred dollars was added to the police fund.

—Peter Rice, a dark voter, is supposed to have stolen a trunk full of clothing. Justice Foley will examine the case to-day.

—The number of pupils attending the public schools in the city count over fifteen hundred.

—City scrip seems to be in demand. Holders are not anxious to sell at present, but hold off, hoping for higher rates.

—There are about one hundred and thirty prisoners now confined in the county jail. There is still room for more.

—The St. George's Cricket Club has never been disorganized, though during the last season they have lost many of their best players. They propose to practice and play as usual.

—The weather yesterday was pleasant for the season, but about nightfall the rain began to fall, with a stiff wind from the Southwest. The storm lasted but an hour.

—Thanks to Felix Cross, of the Southern Express Company, for the latest papers.

—Notwithstanding the inclement state of the weather last night, the audience at the New Memphis Theater, to hear Mr. Mullaly's lecture, was much larger than that of Monday night. The able address was listened to with the utmost interest. Our citizens will not soon forget the gratuitous exertions of Mr. Mullaly in behalf of our orphans.

—The Varieties still continues to prosper. The singing, dancing, burlesque acting and burnt cork business generally is done up in superior style. On Friday night Manager Broom takes a complimentary benefit. He is in every way worthy of a rouser. From the number of tickets already sold, we predict an overflowing house.

—"The poor we have always with us," is an old saying and no less old than true. That the helpless little ones should be our especial care is not doubted, and we hope that our citizens will come forward nobly on Friday night and fill the New Memphis Theater from pit to dome, for the benefit of the Orphans of St. Peter's Church.

DARING ROBBERY.

A Safe Blown Open, and about $1000 Stolen—The Thieves get off with their Booty.

Mr. B. Rocco, the well known confectioner and ice cream saloon keeper, whose establishment is on the corner of Main and Adams streets, was not a little astonished yesterday morning to find that his place of business had been entered, his safe blown open, and nearly one thousand dollars in specie and greenbacks stolen therefrom. From the appearance of the premises, it would seem that the robbery was planned by parties who were not only posted in their business, but well acquainted with the premises. The night was favorable for dark deeds, the elements seeming to have combined with midnight thieves and prowlers. An entrance was effected by forcing the grating on the pavement. Getting into the cellar, they bored the flooring, and gained admission to the sales-room, where they robbed the till of some ten or eleven dollars. They then proceeded to rob the safe of its contents. From appearances it would seem that two efforts were made to blow open the safe before a success was met with. Certain it is, the thieves got seventy five dollars in gold, eighty dollars in silver, and seven hundred and ninety dollars in currency. The job was executed most artistically, and evidently was not done by greenhorns. It is a notorious fact that there are hundreds of professional thieves and pickpockets, who should be sharply looked after by the police. Confidence men are not very scarce either, but ply their trade daily in defiance of all law. It would appear, from the manner in which the above robbery was made, that money is much safer in a bank vault than in a private safe. No clue to the perpetrators of the deed has as yet been discovered.

Board of Mayor and Aldermen

At a called meeting of the Board of Mayor and Aldermen, held yesterday, April 15, 1868, there were present Hon. E. McDavitt, Mayor pro tem., Chairman Swayne, Aldermen Powers, Glancy, Johnson, Black, Wickersham, O'Donnell, Ruffin, Cicalla, Lemon, Renner, Passmore, Moffet, Ellis and Wright.

The Finance Committee submitted the following report upon the ordinance, which was received by the Board:

Your committee, to whom was referred the above ordinance, are of opinion, "after a careful examination into the indebtedness of the city, and the great importance of restoring the credit of the same," that you should order an election of the citizens to vote the issuance of $600,000 of time bonds, having from twenty to thirty years to run. This amount, we feel sure, will be required to fund a sufficient amount of the due debt of the city, that the balance may be taken up by the Revenue officers of the city. And we would recommend that said election be held at as early a day as possible.

Pending the consideration of the subject matter before the Board, a recess of fifteen minutes was ordered for the purpose of allowing the Finance Committee time to furnish a detailed statement to the Financial Committee of the city.

Upon the expiration of the recess ordered, the chairman called the Board to order, when the Committee submitted the following report, which was received by the Board:

|---|---|
| The Bond indebtedness of the city is | $1 719,000 |
| Of which is due by state and others | 781 000 |
| | $1,388,000 |
| Due on coupons | 223,000 |
| Warrants outstanding and unpaid | 600 000 |
| Ledger balances | 150 000 |
| | $2,361,000 |
| Bills payable to be provided for | 280,000 |
| | $2,591,000 |

PART DUE INDEBTEDNESS.

| | |
|---|---|
| Bond indebtedness part due | $ 27,000 |
| Bond indebtedness due Jan. 1, 1869 | 700,000 |
| Bond indebtedness due Jan. 1, 1870 | 400 000 |
| Coupons past due | 329,000 |
| Warrants outstanding and unpaid | 640,000 |
| Ledger balances | 150,000 |
| | $2,214,000 |
| Bills payable to be provided for | 50,000 |
| | $1,214,000 |

Scrip and city notes, and coupons and bonds redeemed since January 10 to be deducted. The above approximate to the actual indebtedness, and can be considered reliable.

E. McDAVITT, Chairman.

Which was adopted by the following vote:

Ayes—Messrs. Powers, Glancy, Johnson, Ruffin, Renner, Lemon, Passmore, Swayne—8.

Nays—Messrs. Wickersham, Black, O'Donnell, Cicalla, Moffett, Ellis and Wright—7.

A motion to amend the report of the Finance Committee, making the amount of bonds to be issued one million instead of six hundred thousand, was approved, when the report of the committee, as amended, was adopted.

By Alderman Passmore:

Resolved, etc., That the office now held by E. W. Wickersham, as Alderman from the Third Ward, be and is hereby declared vacant, on account of ineligibility, according to article 2, section 26, of the Constitution.

Referred to a special committee, composed of Aldermen Moffatt, Ruffin, Johnson, Powers and Wright, with the City Attorney.

A communication was received from Capt. Flem. Calvert, Superintendent of the Memphis and St. Louis Packet Company, requesting that ten days' time may be extended before the order relative to wharfboats is executed.

Resolved, That the time asked for by Capt. Calvert be granted, and a committee of three, with the Mayor, be appointed by the Chair, to confer with the Captain and report to this body.

Adopted, and Aldermen Ruffin, O'Donnell and Moffat appointed the committee.

After the transaction of some unimportant business the Board adjourned.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

Yesterday was another cloudy day. The late rains have been general all over the Northwest, and we may look for rising rivers in all directions. At this point the decline ceased almost instantaneously, and a rise set in which amounted to nearly two inches at dark last night. The Arkansas has eight feet in the channel to Little Rock, and is again no doubt rising. At St. Louis, on Tuesday, the river was at a stand with ten feet three inches in the canal, and eight feet three inches in the pass. The latest advices from that river will be found in our telegraphic columns.

Arrivals.

Steamer Mary Erwin, Cincinnati.
" Darling, "
" Gleaner, Arkansas River.
" Natoma, Friar's Point.
" Indiana, Louisville.

Departures.

Steamer Victor, Haile's Point.
" Indiana, New Orleans.

Boats in Port.

Gleaner, Ozark, Natoma, Darling, Mary Erwin, Marble City.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The towboat Shark passed up yesterday with several barges of the M. V. T. Company.

The Des Arc resumes her place in the Vicksburg trade on Tuesday next. This will be welcome news to our shippers.

The gay semi-weekly packet Natoma, Capt. Jim Lee, with Billy Fields and Stack Lee in the office, leaves as usual to-morrow for Friars' Point and all way landings.

The Louisiana will pass up at noon today for Louisville. She is a mammoth packet and in fact.

The peerless Pargoud, we learn by a dispatch to her agents, Harry Harmstad & Co., will leave for this port on Saturday next, and will make weekly trips from here to New Orleans during the season, leaving our wharf every Tuesday. The R. E. Lee will follow the Pargoud, giving us two boats per week running in connection with the Memphis and Louisville railroad. The Lee will leave this port on Saturdays.

The Darling, Capt. Yates, with the deservedly popular Capt. Power in the office, came in yesterday from Cincinnati, and leaves again on Friday at 5 p.m. for Cincinnati and intermediate ports.

The storm of Tuesday night was a very severe one. Rain fell in torrents, and rude Boreas was on the rampage. Nearly all the steamers which left this port early in the evening had to lay up at points along the river. The Mollie Hambleton, bound down, and the Gleaner, bound to this port, had to take the bank at Cat Island, and await until daylight.

The Gleaner came in yesterday from the Arkansas river. She re-shipped some cotton at Napoleon, and brought a few bales here. On Sunday night, at Silver Lake, she picked up a snag which tore off a piece of her larboard guard and broke away her hull for several feet. Fortunately, it entered above the waterline, and no water was shipped. She is being put in repair.

We omitted to mention yesterday that the Commercial went out on her usual day. Her machinery is now in complete order, having been thoroughly overhauled by those competent machinists, Messrs. Robinson & Co., of the Western Foundry.

The Indiana down, and the Dexter up, were both due last night.

The popular U. S. mail packet Ozark, Capt. Geo. Wolff, with J. R. Taylor and Bob Shields in the office, will get away to-day for all points on the Arkansas to Fort Smith. This line is fast winning its way into the confidence of travelers, being prompt and reliable.

The U. S. mail packet Liberty, Capt. John B. Davis, will be in port to leave on Saturday for White river.

The fine steamer Marble City, Capt. Conway, leaves at 5 p.m. to-day for Cairo and St. Louis. She connects with the trains North and East, as well as packets for Omaha.

The swift steamer Dexter, Capt. Sam Montgomery, will pass up to-day at noon for Cairo and Louisville.

The Belle Lee left Louisville for New Orleans on Tuesday evening.

The Chancery Court of Vicksburg sold one half of the Vicksburg and Tallahatchie river steamer Countess, at the former place on Tuesday.

A lot of goods which were to be shipped on the Victor yesterday, was seized on an attachment. Capt. Hiram Dean would not let freight go without a struggle these dull times, so he had it put on board by force. The officer of the law got reinforcements and regained the articles—taking them as well as the Captain before the 'Squire. Forgetting that he was in a Justice's office, and not on the roof of the antiquated Victor, the chief officer of that venerable vessel used language to his honor which, without much torturing, was construed into "contempt," and for which a fine of $25 was exacted.

The Mayflower, Capt. Josh. Throop, will be in port to-day, and leaves on Friday for Cairo and Evansville, making all way landings.

The people of Chattanooga are getting their skiffs in order. A vivid recollection of the flood of last March still prevails in that community.

The Governor Allen went into New Orleans with 2879 bales of cotton.

The Dexter left New Orleans on Monday at 5:17 p.m.

The Lorena was sold at Cincinnati, on Monday, to Capt Jas. S. Wise, for $5400.

The action of the Board, in reference to the wharfboat question, will be found in our local column.

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.
It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, seven thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.
They are one of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower bass, after retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpractised ear and to the most cultivated ear.
They are entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four full round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years. sep5 dawly

Noon Dispatches.

NEW YORK, April 15.—The Washington dispatches have a sensation special to the effect that there is a Radical conspiracy on foot to extend the term of office of the President to ten years, and to strip the Supreme Court of the power to pass upon the constitutionality of any act of Congress; to elect Gen. Grant in the doubtful States by the bayonet, and the unlimited inflation of currency by means of a National bank.

A Washington special says the impression is gaining ground that Gen. Hancock will be the Democratic choice for President, and Senator Henderson, of Indiana, for Vice-President.

St. Domingo advices state that Baize was expected within a week.

Thirty prominent refugees of the Cobral party have taken refuge with the American consul.

A great tidal wave visited Gaudaloupe, smashing a British vessel heavily laden. The wave was similar to the one which rushed into St. Thomas harbor last fall, but larger. It lasted for twenty-four hours. The sea receded thirty miles, and left all the ships aground, when the gigantic wave returned, threatening general destruction.

RICHMOND, April 15.—In the Convention to-day an article was adopted providing that any amendment to the Constitution shall first be adopted by the Legislature, and then referred to the people for ratification. Also, that a Convention shall be held every twenty years.

An article was adopted declaring that all citizens shall possess equal civil and political rights and public privileges.

The report on redistricting the State for Congress and making one Congressman elective by the State at large, was adopted.

The Convention recorded the resolution to adjourn to-day.

Republican nominations are being made all over the State. In Caroline county, a meeting nominated Hawkhurst for Governor, and one white and one black man for the Legislature. In Hanover county, James has been nominated for Congress, and one white and one black man for Legislature.

General Schofield to-day appointed William N. Berley Mayor of Alexandria, and a full set of city officers and councilmen for that city. He has also appointed a new city council for Fredericksburg.

LONDON, April 15.—Dispatches just received from Barcelona, report that the entire kingdom of Spain is agitated by a revolution. Martial law has been proclaimed by royal order in the province of Catalonia.

TENNESSEE.

—At Nashville, on Saturday night, Jack Cunningham shot and killed Harry Goughran. A school teacher named Glenn had lost all his money in a game of cards with Cunningham, on the previous night, and had applied for means enough to take him home. The "sports" made up the sum deemed requisite, $60, when Goughran, hearing of it, represented himself to Glenn as a detective, and advised him to demand more, say $375. He armed himself, and proceeding to where Cunningham was, caught him by the arm and turned him round, declaring his readiness for him, and at the same time discharging his revolver and wounding Cunningham in the arm. The latter wheeled and fired, wounding Goughran in the breast. They scuffled for some time afterward, until both fell from utter exhaustion. Goughran, who died in ten minutes after he was shot, said: "Jack Cunningham shot me because I tried to keep a man from being robbed," but a Coroner's jury considered it justifiable homicide, and discharged Cunningham, whose wound is severe but not dangerous.

—A negro who was elected constable in Maury county, has had to resign to give bond.

—From Giles, Maury and Wilson counties come the same unfavorable reports with regard to the damage done to fruit by the late frosts. In Davidson county a few orchards have been spared.

—The National Division Sons of Temperance of North America, inclusive of Central America and Canada, will hold its next annual meeting in Nashville, beginning May 20th. The Grand Division of Sons of this State meets at Gallatin on the 22d inst.

—The following returns from Jackson county gives Judge Barry 332, and Lauck 222. Robinson has not yet made its returns, but it is certain that Judge Barry received a majority of about eighty votes in that county. The total vote in the Seventh District will be for Lauck 1808 and for Judge Barry 1223. Lauck's majority (so-called) 585.

—The Banner of the 12th says: "Our Governor does not seem to have his hands full with the Knoxville Whig, and railroads, and militia, and State Government, and Kukiux, and the United States Senate in prospect; he is dabbling in church matters also." And in this he is as false, knavish, malignant, hypocritical and unbelieveable as in other matters in which he chooses to insert his hoofs and claws.

—The Nashville Banner says: We are sometimes asked what is Brownlow's religion? One Dr. Pearne, the Head Centre of Northern Methodism in East Tennessee, the Governor's man Friday, writes to their Church paper at Cincinnati, that W. G. Brownlow is an humble Christian and an acceptable member and local preacher in that Church! [Heaven help the sinner.] This may help to account for it that Northern Methodist Missionaries and officials have, without law or right, taken so many churches that belong to the M. E. Church South, in East Tennessee.

This scandalous and notorious conduct is going on in she neighborhood and under the nose of the Governor of Tennessee. And this may help to account for it, that Southern Methodist preachers have been mobbed so frequently and so cruelly in the neighborhood and under the nose of the Governor of Tennessee. In the vicinity of Brownlow such lawlessness has most prevailed, and does yet prevail.

GENERAL ITEMS.

—The Courier's Washington special on the 11th says: "The ruling of the Court to-day will exclude nearly all the evidence by which the President's counsel could clearly have exculpated him. The rejection of this evidence by the Court confirms the impression that his conviction is a foregone conclusion."

—Judge Olney has decided the wharf question at Cairo against the city, but it will doubtless come up in some other shape. "Peebles vs. Plainstones," and other interminable Chancery proceedings, are but illustrative of the hydra-headed facilities of that branch of law.

—Three of the prisoners have turned Queen's evidence against Whelan, whose guilt is almost conclusively established. The trial will take place next week. Whelan has for years openly avowed Fenian sentiments and hatred to McGee in Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, and at a prior period in Hamilton, Ontario.

—Nick M. Johnston has been appointed General Freight Agent of the Memphis and Cincinnati Packet Company, and will assume the duties of that position at Cincinnati on Monday.

—The Madison Ind. Banner of the 8th says: The Mississippi Valley Navigation Company of the South and West, have awarded the contract for the building of their first boat, to our townsman—Vance & Armstrong for the hull, John C. Crossley for the cabin, and Cobb, Stribling & Co. for the engine and machinery.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY APPEAL,
MEMPHIS, April 15, 1868.

Money matters were quiet to-day. Cotton bills have been offered to a limited extent—one discount house taking about $20,000 during the day; but the aggregate of exchange making is very small and insufficient to meet the demand, which is also comparatively light. Rates are unchanged.

Gold opened in New York at 138¾, and closed at 138¾. We have heard of no sale of consequence during the day, or in fact for several days. Brokers having orders to fill are offering New York rates, but others try to buy at from ½ to 1c under. Selling at 139 to 140c.

In City Scrip the feeling is strong with buyers numerous at 65c, and no sellers. Brokers would let go at 66 to 67c for limited amounts.

County Warrants are firm with light offerings. Buying nominally at 55 to 58c; selling at 60 to 65c.

Police Scrip is in fair request in small pieces by tax payers. Brokers buy at 83 to 84c, and sell at 86 to 88c.

The Liverpool Cotton market was firm at the opening to-day; Uplands, 12½ to 12¾d; Orleans, 12½ to 12¾d. At 1 p.m. the market was nominally unchanged. Sales, 12,000 bales. In New York at the opening the demand was fair and prices firm; Low Middlings, 30½c; Middlings, 31½c; Good Middlings and Orleans, 32½c. The demand was moderate and prices firm at noon, but at the close was dull and prices lower; Middlings, 31c; Good Middlings and Orleans, 32c. Our market was much the same as it has been for the past day or two. In the morning a few buyers were out, but unfavorable advices caused them to withdraw, while holders were by no means uneasy, and covered up their tables with as much nonchalance as though prices were advancing. New York quotations were asked here, and such sales as occurred were made on that basis.
